the caves of Shasta County, has made several new finds of interest to science.
Two new caves discovered have proved very rich in paleontological remains, yielding up bones of arimais now extinct and of a species hitherto unknown to scientists. Bones of mountain lions, bison, wo.f., porcupine, cave bear and ground sloth were found with all the bones of the extinct porcupine, and also an almost complete specimen of a small cave bear.

In one of these caves, an old tradition had it that an Indian woman wandering about had stumbled into a well, the bottom of which could never be reached. This well was explored, and at the bottom the searchers found the skeleton of a woman fairly well preserved, whom they judged to have fallen or been thrown into the well about 100 years ago.

Mrs. James L. Blair, President of the board, who is spending the summer months on Lake George, as well as other members in the West, are mystified over the publication, for the reason that they have nothing to do with the New York Commission or its appointments, which can neither concern them in fact or in fancy, since the social regulations of the Exposition Company do not provide for any official co-operation between the World's Fair corporation and State commissions in the entertainment of the Exposition's guests.

HITCHCOCK AT DESK AGAIN.

Secretary of Interior Improved by Four Weeks' Outing.

Washington, Aug. 7.—Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock returned to his deak this morning, after a vacation of four weeks spent at his summer home in New Hampshire. Mr. Hitchcock was greatly improved by his outing and is looking much better than he did when he left Washington. He intended to do some fishing in New Brunswick, but the weather was so bad Brunswick, but the weather was so bad that after he got to the fishing grounds the trip was abandoned and instead of going after fish for two weeks he was on their trail but a few days.

A vast amount of mall accumulated for Mr. Hitchcock in his absence, and it will be some time before he can turn his attention to routine departmental matters. Scott Smith, private secretary to the Secretary, said this morning that he had held up a number of matters for the Secretary's personal judgment, but that none of them were of vast importance. They relate mostly to financial matters connected with the sale of Government lands.

LUECKE BELIEVES WIFE ELOPED WITH HIS BROTHER.

Family Disappears While Frenchman Is Applying for a Warrant Against His Kinsman.

August Luecke, who until yesterday morning lived at No. 1319 South Seventh street s considered an unlucky man. Yesterday while he went to the Prosecuting Attorney's office at the Four Courts to make complaint about the conduct of his brother, Paul Luecke, his wife caused two moving vans to drive up to their home and in a few noments their little flat was as bare as the sands of the Sahara. When Luccke returned at 2 o'clock in the fternoon he could hardly believe his eyes. His wife, their three children and his brother were gone. Where to, none of the neigh-bors knew. They, with seven or eight workmen, the neighbors say, made short work of the moving, and were careful to keep to themselves the whereabouts of their new abode.

All afternoon August Luecke walked the streets of Frenchtown, going to all the sec-ondhand stores to see if the household vain.

Lucke's complaint to Prosecuting Attorney Dalton was one of the most unique that official has listened to for some time. He desired a warrant for his brother, Paul Lucke, who he said had been in this country but four months, but who in that time had formed a werm attachment for his wife, whom he claimed his brother wished to marry without her first seeking a divorce.

wished to marry without her first seeking a divorce.

Mr. Dalton refused to issue the warrant, saying that no breach of the peace had been committed, and Luceke, upon returning to his home, encountered a new sorrow. Neighbors who live in the vicinity of the Luceke home declare there has been trouble in the Luceke family ever since the arrival of "Uncle Paul" from France. All were surprised when Mrs. Luceke departed. She had been a congenial neighbor:

Distribution of Merchandise So Heavy That Railway Equipment Already Proves Inadequate.

New York, Aug. 7.-R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade will say to-mortinue to show as favorable conditions as a year ago, and in many lines the volume of transactions has been increased. Jobbers report fall business opening with excellent prospects, and manufacturing plants are well occupied, with the exception of cotton mills. Distribution of merchandise is so heavy that railway equipment al-ready proves inadequate, although crops are not the factor that they will be in a few weeks. Earnings for July exceeded last year's by 12.7 per cent, and those of 1801 by 20.2 per cent.

On the whole, news from the farms is less favorable, but no serious curtailment is assured. and many sections make very bright reports. A decline of 1.5 per cent in the cost of commodi-ies during July is evidence that prices are less almormal position. Consumption of iron and steel is on a large scale, and in many departments the past week witnessed the signing of numerous contracts, but there is a tendency to delay purchases be-yond early needs. This conservatism is not sur-prising in view of the uncertainty regarding the ecurity and financial markets, together with considerable interruption to structural work through furnace men and mill operators to hold quota-tions fairly steady.

A moderate tonings of pig from has been or-dered and in partly finished products the best feature just now is the bidding of agricultura implement makers. There is less pressure for tin plates, the pe that stocks are running low, which encourages culiar weather extending the canning season and giving more time for delivery of cans. No change is noticed in the attitude of cotton goods buyers, who appear determined to post-pone business until the readjustment of prices for raw material. Owing to the gradual reduc-tion in mill stocks there is a similar disposition to delay undertaking new contracts, and the result is further attributed to idle machinery. Although jobbers report bright prospects for fall trade, it is remarkable that they make so little fort to secure forward deliveries. Irregular distribution of orders is reported in woolens, some lines being withdrawn, while others make little progress. An increase in number of buyers is progress. An increase in number of buyers is encouraging and in the aggregate sales are fully up to normal. Healthy conditions continue in footwear, eome grades advancing in price, while New England shops are not able to accept orders for delivery in several months.

There were 17s commercial failures this week in the United States, against 196 the correspond-ing week of last year, and in Canada 19, against 14 last year.

RECEIVER NOT APPOINTED FOR GOESSE-REMMERS CO.

Family History Brought Out in Court in Suit of Sons Against

Circuit Judge McDonald declined yesterday to appoint a receiver for the Goesse & Remmers Building and Construction Company in the suit brought by Eugene P. Remmers, A. Vincent Remmers and Harry J. Remmers, for an accounting of 348 shares of stock in the company, which belonged to Mary Remmers, the deceased wife of F. J. Remmers, president of the company.

Eugene P. and A. Vincent Remmers are sons of F. J. Remmers, Harry J. Remmers was a relative of Mrs. Remmers, and was raised in the Remmers family since he was very young, it was stated. He claimed to be ignorant of the fact that he was not the on of Mr. and Mrs. Remmers. Attorney R. L. McLaran, who is defending the case, offered other testimony to the effect that Harry Remmers had been informed of the situation, and that it was well known among the friends of the Remmers that Harry was not their son, though he was known by the name of Remmers. The 348 shares of stock were given Mrs. Remmers by her husband, and she transferred them back to him before she died, it was claimed. It also was shown that died, it was claimed. It also was shown that Remmers gave stock in the company to his sons, and to Harry Remmers.

It is the contention of the plaintiffs that the 348 shares of stock were not transferred by Mrs. Remmers to her husband. The case, if prosecuted, will come up for a regular hearing at the October term of court.

The Goesse & Remmers Company is capitalized for $100,000, and its earnings are said to be $35,000 a year.

Under the plan of police organization each precinct is urder the command of a Sergeent. When the proposed change is made the Police Board will be able to increase the number of precincts, thus relieving some of the precinct commanders of excessive work.
